Dear Mr Talarico,

Below is the web page to purchase the software needed to open the files correctly from Barbara G Smith.

I am able to open the files but there is very little readable text and the rest is in binary.

At $1745.00 to buy the program to just to read these files correctly it is worth the time to have Barbara G Smith output these files in PDF form and turn over the pdf's she provides and the original files to an expert witness along with all the various depositions due to the issues we already discussed and agreed to turn over to an expert.

My bet is any expert witness on this issue already owns this software.

Paul

Case CATalyst Edit software enables professional editors and scopists to access and edit transcripts created by Case CATalyst Pro.

Comprehensive editing capabilities include creating dictionary entries, making global corrections and any other necessary changes before returning it to the court reporter for final production and delivery.

What's Included

License for the current version of Case CATalyst Edit software
Product Key Code (PKC) for non-simultaneous use on up to four computers

One year of technical support

Access to any updates issued in the first year

Integrated Video Training

Self-Help Study Guides

Key Features

Double-check ambiguous testimony by listening to AudioSync files.

Selectively replace text without wasting your time retyping the same replacement text again and again.

Quickly and easily recover from errors in editing or globaling using Global Undo.

Use the Track Changes so any editing you do can be easily reviewed by your client

Assign due dates and completion status to all your jobs to keep you on track for delivery

Search for missing by lines and instantly insert a speaker.

Differences in CATalyst Pro and CATalyst Edit

Case CATalyst Pro includes full translation of steno notes to text which CATalyst Edit does not. CATalyst Edit is designed for team-work between a reporter and an editor/scopist. It is offered at a fraction of the price of CATalyst Pro. All editing functions are provided in both as well as final production and delivery features.
